

- * Are you a SENDCo?
- * Would you find it helpful to have a focused conversation with a couple of SEND specialist professionals about areas of development relevant to your school?
- * Well, you can... for FREE!!!
- * Norfolk's EPSS are providing free, termly, online meetings tailored to your needs ... Core Consultations.
- * Here is what SENDCos are saying about Core consultations:

An invaluable chance to talk through both whole school strategic SEND issues and individual cases with a range of knowledgeable experts who always have new suggestions of what to try next.

Rosie Maunder, Head of School (Freethorpe Primary) & Inclusion Manager of Cantley & Horning Primaries.

Being able to have a professional and supportive conversation with specialists during this meeting time has been invaluable. I have been signposted to useful resources, tools and CPD but most importantly, worked with professionals that have really got to know our school and children's needs.

Sharon Wagstaff, Assistant Head/SENDCo, Falcon Junior School, Norwich

The Core Consultations provide friendly support and advice. They have been invaluable to me as a SENCO this year.

Lucy Robinson, SENCO, Dereham Infant School

A great opportunity to discuss our current challenges and be signposted to support, resources and CPD. This has had a direct impact on our practice meaning improved support and outcomes for our SEN students.

Allison McLellan, Assistant Principal (inc SEND), Hellesdon High School

Time to talk and to reflect with a team of specialists

Alie Otty, SENCO, Stibbard & North Elmham Primaries

The Core Consultation meetings provide an invaluable opportunity to discuss current school priorities with experienced and knowledgeable professionals. The signposting to the most up to date resources and training has had a direct impact on the SEN provision within our school.

Rebecca Jennings, Deputy Headteacher and SENDCo, Mulbarton Primary School

These bespoke sessions have been invaluable for getting advice/information, affirming what we're already doing and for being signposted to other services. We've also really appreciated the (rare) opportunity to talk to other specialist services about our children, without a long wait and large cost!

Simon Minter, Head Teacher, Hillside Primary School, Bradwell
