

Hungate Medieval Art

October:

Tea and Talking Points:

Wed 6th £1pp

Family Fun: All Hallows Eve Drop in Jam Jar Painting Event

Sat 30th 1-4pm, Donations gratefully received

A family event where children can paint their own spooky glass 'lantern' to take home...

November:

Talk: Tea & Talking Points

Wed 3rd 2:30, £1

'It Was Foully Done: the Attack on the Paston's in October 1465' by Clive Wilkins-Jones

Accompanied by Trevor Markworth from the Maddermarket theatre who will do readings from the account of the attack in the Paston letters.

Exhibition: Mike Dixon of 'Norfolk Stained Glass'

From Thurs 4th

Photographer Mike Dixon will be exhibiting photographs of Norfolk Stained Glass.

Family Event:

Performance: Dickfools, the Devil and the Nature of Women - Medieval Tales at Hungate Medieval Art.

6th Nov, From 7pm

The Yarnsmith of Norwich 'Dave Tong' will be providing an evening of entertainment through his devilishly delightful storytelling, set in the authentic atmosphere of St Peter Hungate Church. Adults only!

Tickets £11pp or

£10 with a year pass/concessions

December:

Talk: Tea & Talking Points

Weds 1st Dec, £1

'Norwich Cathedral in the 18th and 19th centuries- Neglect then restoration' By Owen Thompson

Concert: Minstrels gallery 'Music in the glass'

17th Dec, 1pm-2pm

Music to drive away the winter blues and to celebrate the new birth is performed on a colourful array of instruments including lute, viol, cittern, shawm, psaltery, crumhorn and nakkers.

Tickets £7pp or

£6 with year pass/concessions

Family Fun: Christmas Drop in Jam Jar Painting event

Sat 18th 1-4pm, Donations gratefully received

A family event marking HMA's closure for Christmas- Children can paint their own festive glass 'lantern' to take home...

Hungate Medieval Art

01603 623254 (Thursday- Saturday) alice.free@hungate.org.uk