Anthony Grunwell has over 20 years teaching experience in both pastoral and curriculum areas and is currently Whole School Manager and Director of Specialist Status at a Secondary school in Lincolnshire. He leads the Life Studies programme, a subject which he has created over the past 10 years which incorporates Citizenship, PSHEEd, CEG, WRL and Enterprise. He works closely with Lincolnshire Education supporting the GTP and NQT programmes. He is a Partner Advisor and offers support and guidance to a number of schools in the area, he has a wealth of experience developing CPD activities and seminars. He passionately believes that Citizenship is the correct platform to enhance learning and develop community participation. He is looking forward to his second year as Lead Practitioner for Citizenship working with the SSAT.

Sex Drugs and Rock n' Roll

Have you every wondered what you were supposed to be doing? What you were teaching and why? What does PSHE really mean and is there any point to Careers Ed and Citizenship? The day will address all these questions and leave you happy and confident about building a secure and relevant teaching plan to fit into your own student's needs and wants.

You will also get the chance to ask questions of your own and talk to expert practitioners who are passionate about their subject area.

You will leave the day with the assurance of continued help and support and the ability to create a workable structure for your school.

During the day delegates will become aware of just how it easy it is for students to become accredited in the areas of PSHE and Citizenship along with school being able to be recognised for excellence in this teaching area.

The course is run in conjunction with the Specialist Schools and Academies Trust and is supported by Lincolnshire County Council and CfBT
