

MA in Religious Education

Join our friendly, supportive and diverse community of world-class researchers and teachers of Religious Education.

Study for a masters in Religious Education, as part of our MA in Education
(Citizenship/History/Religious Education)

Take any of our modules as a stand-alone short course.

MA in Religious Education

We can offer you:

- the opportunity to strengthen your professional practice and career prospects
- the encouragement to reflect critically upon the principles and ideas that relate to policy and professional practice
- the opportunity to reflect upon and explore contemporary developments in Religious Education, and to develop your thinking about the role of this subject
- preparation for continuing your studies beyond the MA, including work for an EdD or PhD.

MA Programme and Religious Education
Subject Leader
Joanne Pearce

For more information please contact:
Alison Slade
Programme Administrator
Institute of Education
20 Bedford Way
London WC1H 0AL

020 7612 6740
a.slade@ioe.ac.uk

To apply online:
www.ukpass.ac.uk

Modules include:

- Learning, Teaching and Assessment in Religious Education
- Religion and School Life
- Teaching Controversial Issues

Course structure

- One year full-time or up to four years part-time
- Sessions are taught at face-to-face seminars and by distance learning
- Flexible course structure

Entry requirements

- A good honours degree and some experience of working in the field of humanities education (for example, as a teacher of Citizenship, History or Religious Education)
- Alternative qualifications and experience will be considered