

How can you make really effective global links that engage children?

What will your children remember about The Olympics in 2012?

GO GLOBAL

For primary teachers, teaching assistants, subject leaders of Geography, ICT and PE.

Also ideas for extended schools co-ordinators

On Wednesday 11th May 2011

At Aylsham High School, Hungate Street, Aylsham, Norfolk, NR11 6AN

Are you making the most of your international links?
Do you need help to use technology to cross the miles?

This conference will help schools to GET SET for LONDON 2012!
It will be packed with great ideas and contacts to help your school plan and deliver a memorable OLYMPIAN experience.

Programme

- 09.15 Arrival, tea & coffee
- 09.30 Welcome: Duncan Spalding, Headteacher, Aylsham High School
Keynote speaker: Michael Shepherd
Headteacher from Hawes Side Primary School, Blackpool
- 11.00 Coffee
- 11.30 Keynote speaker: Anna McCarthy
Creative Projects Officer — London 2012
- 12.30 Lunch - opportunities to explore displays about successful global partnerships in action
- 13.30 Workshops — choice of two from the following:
Using Technology to develop global links - Michael Shepherd
Organising a teacher exchange - Tina Casburn
Ideas to set the Olympics alight in your school - Anna McCarthy
Capoeira sessions with a Grand Master from Brazil
- 15.00 Close

HANDS ON PRACTICAL ADVICE BY PEOPLE WHO HAVE DONE IT

Michael Shepherd

Michael is the HT of Hawes Side Primary School in Blackpool, Vice Chair of the Primary HT Steering Group and Head of the Primary Network for the SSAT. His school is an ICT registered school and has been recognised nationally for its use of technology to support learning, engage with parents and the wider community and develop international links. The school has developed a number of networks with local, national and global partners that are both innovative and exciting, making excellent use of web 2.0 technology to bridge geographical divides. Michael is also a keen educational blogger and uses twitter extensively as an ongoing form of professional dialogue and development.'

Tina Casburn

Tina Casburn is Head Teacher at Aldborough Primary School and has formed a link with a school in Malawi.

She recently took part, with a colleague, in an exchange, visiting their partner school in Dedza.

The exchange was made possible by a British Council Reciprocal Grant and the link was made via the Norwich Dedza partnership.

Whilst only just setting out on the journey, Tina is now passionate about the reciprocal learning despite huge initial reservations and partnering a school that doesn't have electricity!

Market Place

During the day there will be several exhibitions which will include:

Artists for Climate Change
Grassroots One World Programme
Mnarani School in Kenya
Rotary International
Polio Plus Campaign
Dance Aloud - working with deaf children to communicate the values of the Olympic & Paralympic Games
Just Imagine — virtual footage of the Olympic Games
Get Set—The London 2012 Official education programme

Further information

Conference cost £50 which includes a buffet lunch

For further information on this conference please contact Fiona Chant from John of Gaunt Infant & Nursery School on 01263 732844 or head@johnngaunt.norfolk.sch.uk or Vanessa Scargill from Aylsham High School on 01263 733270 ext 106 or v.scargill@aylshamhigh.norfolk.sch.uk

How to Book

If you would like to book a place at this conference, please email Ros Craske at Aylsham High School rcraske@aylshamhigh.norfolk.sch.uk Ros will send a booking form and details of how to pay.