

AVIVA/DAILY TELEGRAPH School Sport Matters Awards 2011

The School Sport Matters campaign, now in its seventh year, forms part of Aviva's commitment to grassroots sport.

A key part of the campaign is the School Sport Matters Awards, which recognise and reward sporting achievements within the school environment.

Nominations are now invited for the School Sport Matters Awards 2011. We want to hear about the success of sport in your school and who contributes to it, whether it's a winning team performance, the achievements of a single student or the tireless efforts of a teacher.

The competition is open to any school with pupils aged 5 to 18

The top three entries per category will be invited to the prestigious national awards ceremony, which takes in Twickenham, the home of rugby. The judging panel will include a host of sporting luminaries.

Closing date: Friday September 23, 2011

Visit www.teachers.org.uk/schoolsportmatters for more information.

