Course Context/Audience: Coaching for Excellence
Ofsted 2011 Pilot – Leadership & management

'Improved teaching and learning through modelling best practice, monitoring quality, and developing staff through dialogue, coaching and support.'

Coaching has been identified as an approach that supports all school practitioners in finding and maintaining direction, solving problems and improving their own professional and personal life. Coaching is a powerful tool to support all individuals as they identify areas of focus and plan actions to achieve their goals within the classroom and wider school community.

This course will provide opportunities to learn and apply the skills of coaching as a way of supporting and developing people while sustaining school improvement.

Objectives:

By the end of the course, participants will have:

- Explored the principles of coaching/mentoring
- Considered solution focused approaches to solving problems
- Practised coaching techniques around a range of issues
- Considered whole school models of coaching
