Singing Phonics

An afternoon of interactive play-based songs to support language development and the teaching of phonics

Course overview

This course will show you many simple, fun ways of developing the oral, aural and phonics skills of young children as they sing. Using games, movement, story-telling, instruments, puppets and props Helen will show how songs can engage and enhance children's language development in foundation stage and beyond. The activities link with the Letters and Sounds strategy, focusing on Phase 1, with ideas for Phases 2-5, but can be used with any phonics teaching scheme.

Who is the event for?

A course for anyone teaching or working within Foundation Stage and KS1

No specialist music skills are required and you don't need to read music!
