

not just a stage

The Garage and NORCA are offering a unique performance opportunity for people to join in with The Pulse, an exciting new show to welcome the Olympic Torch to Norwich in July... and you could be part of it!

We are looking for 15 talented people of all ages with skills in physical disciplines including sport, dance, martial arts, circus, gymnastics, parkour or skating. We're also looking for 15 of the best percussionists to perform alongside them.

Renowned Norfolk born dancer and choreographer Aaron Sillis will return to Norwich as Artistic Director of the project and will run master classes at four venues around the city on 14th, 15th, 16th & 17th February.

The classes are FREE but places are limited so act soon. Further information and an application form are attached or go to <http://www.thegarage.org.uk/pulse-olympic-torch-relay-show-nid160.html>

Following the master classes, there will be open auditions for both performers and percussionists at The Garage on Sunday 4th of March - anybody of any age or discipline can sign up to audition. There will then be a boot camp on Sunday 11th March to select the final performers.

We would be very grateful if you could help promote this fantastic opportunity to your group by displaying the attached poster or including the press release in any newsletter, listings or website.

Got great skills in sport,
gymnastics, dance,
circus or martial arts?

We're looking for fifteen great athletes, dancers and performers to turn their skills into a unique performance to welcome the Olympic Torch to Norwich in July.

Aaron Sillis, professional dancer and choreographer directs this exciting new performance. Prior to auditions in March, he'll be holding four master classes at sports venues around Norwich. These classes are FREE and will be a great opportunity to see how your physical skills can be choreographed into performance work.

So, if you've got the moves on the pitch, dancefloor or in the dojo, we'd love you to join in. And who knows? You could be on stage as the torch arrives in Norwich this summer. Places are limited - first come first served. Application form available from receptions at each of the venues - just fill them in and return. We'll get in touch if you're successful!
