

The BBC Norfolk Children and Young People's Film Festival 2012

Monday 16th July to Friday 27th July (excluding Sundays)

10am to 5pm

Free Entry

The BBC Norfolk Children and Young People's Film Festival 2012 is run by BBC Voices. It offers young film-makers an opportunity to have their films seen by the public. The festival will take place in Fusion at The Forum – Europe's largest permanent digital screen – and your film could also be shown on the BBC Big Screen in Norwich and on bbc.co.uk/norfolk.

The BBC Norfolk Children and Young People's Film Festival is not a competition and there is no prize, except the opportunity for the films to be shown.

If you wish to have your film considered, please send it with completed application form to:-

BBC Norfolk Children and Young People's Film Festival 2012

BBC Norfolk Children and Young People's Film Festival 2012

Rules of entry

Entries can come from schools, youth groups and organisations working with children and young people aged 18 and under - as well as individuals.

Entrants can receive help from adults, but the nature of this help must be stated.

There is no set theme and entries can be documentaries, fiction, animation.

Maximum length will be 10 minutes.

Films will be selected by a panel consisting of BBC Voices producers and all films must recognise that they are being shown in a public place and viewed by people of all ages. They must, therefore, meet The Forum's Fusion guidelines (copy available on request).

Entries should be submitted on mini DV tape, or high quality video data file (e.g. AVI, MOV). The film must be the children or young person's own original material and you must have the authority to submit your film and have checked with any other contributors before doing so.

Please do not send in your only copy as we will not be able to return submissions.

Please complete and return these forms with your entry to BBC Norfolk Children and Young People's Film Festival, BBC Voices, The Forum, Millennium Plain, Norwich, NR2 1BH
