

REEL HERITAGE

IN EDUCATION

You are invited to a private launch of,
'MY GENERATION'

An innovative new resource to support learning and discussion using archive film of our region, 'My Generation' focuses on the post-war evolution of teenagers and the youth subcultures that emerged.

Using archive film footage of the time and interviews with today's youth and those of the 1960s, 'My Generation' explores the 'moral panic' that challenged authority and gave youths a new identity.

'My Generation' will be of interest to students, teachers and youth workers with an interest in citizenship, media studies, general studies and local history, within Key Stage Four and post-16 education.
