Vision in Action – A Whole School Approach

The new Ofsted framework clearly sets out the need for schools to have a clear and ambitious vision.

The development of a school's vision provides common direction, powerfully shapes practice and binds the school and community together for the benefit of its children.

This course will enable participants to reflect upon the relevance and the value of its current vision and will offer practical strategies to work with the school's stakeholders to raise expectations and generate energy for change.

What will I get out of it?

- Understand how to create a vision for their school and how to map the steps necessary for this vision to be translated into everyday practice.
- Decide whether the vision for their school is fit for purpose.
