Enthuse, Engage, Motivate through an Enquiry Based Approach

'Enthused', 'motivated', 'engaged'?

With changes to Ofsted and the imminent arrival of the new national curriculum, the use of enquiry-based learning across the curriculum will be an important approach to enable children to develop ownership, independence and positive attitudes to their learning.

What will I get out of it?

- Know what is meant by 'enquiry-based' learning.
- Know what is needed for an enquiry-based learning approach to be successful.
- Have some ideas of how to get started and move forward with enquiry-based learning.

This course will assist schools in developing enquiry-based approaches across all subjects for all learners.
