 Norfolk County Council
at your service

Ofsted challenges teachers to maintain their understanding and knowledge of national developments and latest good practice in their subject/aspect areas.

The Professional Networks is a service provided by Norfolk County Council's Integrated Education Advisory Services to support teachers to meet this challenge.

Norfolk Integrated Education
Advisory Services

“Networking and collaboration between schools is key to raising standards of pupil achievement” National College for School Leadership

Our professional networks:

- enable schools to keep abreast on international, national and local developments
- facilitate cooperation, mutual support and sharing of resources and ideas amongst subject and/or aspect leaders
- focus on sharing best practice
- help develop competent and confident leaders
- encourage debate about improvements and developments
- draw in wider expertise as fits in with developments within the subject/aspect.

Professional Networks...

Collaboration between committed professionals working towards a shared goal is a powerful and proven tool for improvement.

Norfolk's Professional Networks are designed to support primary and secondary practitioners who wish to work and learn together to bring about effective staff development and sustained school improvement. Delivered locally it meets Ofsted requirements in a very cost effective way.

The Professional Networks enable teachers to get up to date with good practice, discuss the latest trends and benefit from sharing their experiences with colleagues who have similar responsibilities.

Attending one of the Professional Networks helps staff become:

- more highly skilled
- better informed
- forward-looking
- reflective
- confident

Each of the sixteen Networks is facilitated by a Schools Adviser who shares their professional experience and knowledge along with their personal and subject/aspect expertise.

Norfolk Advisors are well-informed and up-to-date with national and regional developments and latest initiatives. They know and care about schools and education, aiming to develop and foster long-term working relationships with teachers based on mutual respect and partnership.

There are sixteen Professional Networks.

Each Professional Network package includes:

1. three half or whole day meetings (one per term) each academic year
2. access to electronic resources through an online network space
3. email and telephone support from specialist advisors.
