An initial introduction to the Boxall Profile/Boxall Profile for Young People, which are arguably the best assessment tools available at present for profiling children and young people with emotional behavioural difficulties. They provide a framework for systematic assessment of those who may be struggling with a range of social, emotional and behavioural issues in a school, alternative provision or a community context.

Target Audience

For any staff (not just for Nurture Groups) working with vulnerable children and young people from early years through to secondary and beyond, educational psychologists and others working with SEBD children and young people, teachers and other staff planning interventions.

By the end of the course candidates will

- Have a basic understanding of the it's rationale
- how to complete a Boxall Profile/Boxall Profile for Young People
- be able to interpret it to provide insights into what lies behind the difficulties, a guide to effective intervention, a structure for intervention programmes
- Understand how to use it to monitor and measure outcomes.
