Young Norfolk Arts Festival 2014

Welcome to the Young Norfolk Arts Festival 2014! Now in its second year, the 2014 festival is a celebration of creativity and performance, by and for young people in Norfolk.

We believe it's important to provide an opportunity for young people in our county to share their artistic talents, express their creativity and of course, provide us with a feast of entertainment right on our doorstep!

Young people are involved in organising, performing and watching this year's exciting programme of artistic events. From dance, drama and music to art, moving image, design and creative writing, we're confident that this year's line-up will provide something for everyone!

Most of the events listed in this programme are open to the public. For further details on booking and ticket sales, please see page 3 or visit the festival website: www.ynaf.org.uk.

Lord Mayor's Celebrations and Parade

Join Norwich School dancers for a showcase of the breadth of styles and opportunities for both dance performance and choreography at the school.

The numbers, choreographed by pupils from across the school, include works ranging from classical ballroom, cheerleading and contemporary ballet to musical theatre and street dance.

The Garage Emerging Artists Showcase Saturday 5 July 1pm & 9pm

The Forum Stage

Another chance to see the Garage performers as they take to the Forum stage at the Lord Mayor's Celebrations! Dancers, singers and musicians bring a fusion of performance art to their show in this highly energetic display.

BBC Introducing in Norfolk Saturday 5 July and Sunday 6 July

The Forum Stage

BBC Introducing in Norfolk presents some of the region's best emerging music talent from young people in the area. The bands hit the Forum Stage at the Lord Mayor's Celebration as part of the Young Norfolk Arts Festival.

Theatre

Arabian Nights

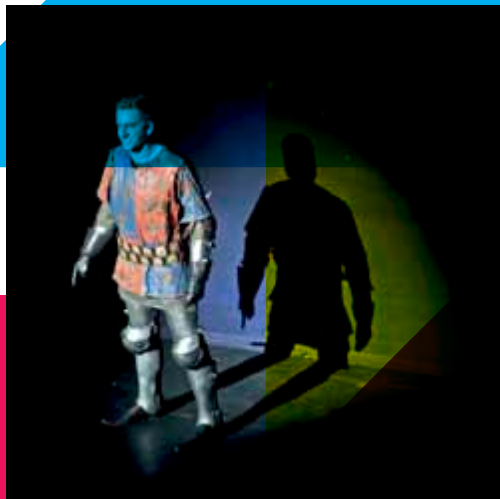

Friday 27 June 2pm & 5pm

No 68, The Close

Tickets: free, booking essential

Box office: ynafadmin@norwich-school.org.uk

Norwich School pupils present a spellbinding production of Arabian Nights. The story tells the tale of Shahrazad, a young girl who brings to life the magical stories of One Thousand and One Nights. Her strange and wonderful tales take us to enchanted caves to meet secret sorceresses, singing trees, flying men and wise talking birds. But can the power of the stories break the terrible curse upon her land? Adapted from the world-famous folk tales, this performance is an imaginative delight that will enchant children and adults alike.

Shakespeare's The Winter's Tale

Sunday 29 June 7pm

Monday 30 June 2pm & 7pm

Norwich Cathedral Cloisters

Tickets: £7, £5 concessions

Box office: www.ynaf.org.uk

A wonderful opportunity to watch Shakespeare in the atmosphere of the ancient cloisters of Norwich Cathedral. Norwich School's talented senior company reveals this beautifully crafted play based on Pandosto, a pastoral tale of magical realism. It explores the mystery of time, and the triumph of goodness over the destructive power of jealousy. Set in the mild winter sun of Sicilia and Bohemia, The Winter's Tale is remarkable in its emotional truth, simplicity and timelessness, yet somehow its bucolic fun and comic characters endure.

The Real Inspector Hound

Sunday 29 June 2pm

Monday 30 June 2pm

Norwich Puppet Theatre

Tickets: free, booking essential

Box office: ynafadmin@norwich-school.org.uk

Head to Norwich Puppet Theatre to see Norwich School's production of The Real Inspector Hound. Performed by pupils from Year 9 and 10, the play follows two theatre critics, Moon and Birdboot, who are watching a ludicrous set-up of a country house murder mystery in the style of a whodunnit. By chance, they become involved in the action, causing a series of events that parallels the play they are watching.
