

This is an invitation for your School to get involved in the GoGoDragons! School Arts Awards Education programme 2015.

As part of the programme your school will receive:

- A dragon sculpture that the school can keep at the end of the event.
- Two places for teachers or support staff to be trained to become Discover and Explore Arts Award Advisors. Excellent CPD opportunity!
- Support to enable your participating students to gain a nationally recognised arts qualification awarded by Trinity College London and accredited by OFQUAL.
- A cross-curricular education pack crammed with information and valuable planning advice to enable the participating students to achieve the Discovery Arts Award qualification.
- A Head Teachers half day SCPD training session on how your school can achieve Artsmark Status.

Everyone will discover, explore and share their learning in a large scale public art spectacular designed to be a celebration of learning through arts, heritage and culture.

To register your initial interest, please e-mail:

Joanna.storey@break-charity.org

Full details & exact price will be sent out early September.

A Wild in Art event brought to Norwich by Break in conjunction with the Forum and Norwich HEART

