Eco-Schools: an environmentally friendly way forward for your school

Explore how Eco-Schools can provide a motivating context for the active participation of young people and help schools reduce their ecological footprint.

We will consider the present position of schools with regard to environmental/sustainability work and why this area is at the core of the curriculum. We will explore the Eco-Schools framework thoroughly and consider Green Flag standards. It will finish with an action planning exercise to ensure each participant has a way forward for when they return to school.

The course leader, Nell Seal is an Eco-Schools Assessor and teacher specialising in environmental and outdoor learning.
