

Combatting under age sales of alcohol and tobacco - national competition for secondary schools

The Trading Standards Institute is inviting teams of young people aged 12-15 to get creative and come up with a campaign to combat illegal underage sales and help prevent the use of tobacco and alcohol products by children. Norfolk Trading Standards team is hoping that lots of Norfolk schools will get involved and may even be lucky enough to be among the winners.

'Create a Campaign' offers participating school across the UK the opportunity to win one of two £1,000 prizes and the chance to come to TSI's annual conference to collect them.

For full details and to register go to:

<http://www.tradingstandards.gov.uk/events/agerestrictedproductscomp.cfm>

Adele Godsmark

School Health Partnerships Adviser

adele.godsmark@nhs.net

01603 221812