

PSHE in the headlines!

The last few weeks has seen a string of high profile stories in the press linked to PSHE. The Government Education Select Committee recommended that PSHE be made statutory and there have been a number of DfE press releases about the importance of high quality PSHE in helping children and young people to stay safe. This document looking at effective practice has just been published.

The Healthy Schools team continues to support all schools in Norfolk with PSHE planning and delivery – including a focus on more sensitive and challenging areas.

We will be running training days on promoting effective PSHE on June 9th 10-4 at West Norfolk PDC and June 19th 10-4 at UEA Sportspark.
