

Even Better Teaching Course

We are a school with a great reputation for developing teachers and supporting them to increase their confidence and practice in the classroom. We have developed teachers across 40 different schools from Norfolk over the last 4 years. We are proud to be running again our Even Better Teaching course which has evolved from our successful work around teacher coaching and CPD.

Who is this course for?

This course is aimed at pro-active teachers who want to further improve and consolidate their practice and their self-reflection and consistently deliver good lessons.

What are the aims?

- To develop understanding of what makes good teaching and learning
- To share good practice and improve planning to impact on performance in the classroom
- To respond positively to questioning and modelled expertise
- To embed self-reflection and target setting in their own practice

"It has allowed me to find time in a busy school to reflect on and develop my own practice." - Cromer Delegate

What does the course involve?

Sessions focus on creating a positive classroom culture, effective planning, assessment, questioning and the learning journey.

How is the course structured?

- The course runs for 5 weeks and it is delivered by two of our own experienced teachers. Some sessions run for the entire day, others finish at lunchtime and delegates are advised to stay at the venue for the remainder of the day to complete course tasks.
- Schools are asked to nominate a mentor to support delegates. The course is most beneficial when schools send two to three delegates together.
- Course tasks are set weekly and they include teaching mini-lessons within the group.
- Participants observe practice within Aylsham High School every week.

"I liked looking at teaching holistically instead of in a subject specific way."

- Northgate High delegate
