Helping high flyers to soar:

rethinking and reshaping provision for the more able learner

How schools can engage, extend and enrich learning experiences for more able pupils.

With a heightened focus from Ofsted on more able pupils, this course will take a fresh look at how schools can stretch, challenge and extend the learning of the most able, including those eligible for Pupil Premium.

By the end of the day, delegates will:

- identify challenging pedagogies for the most able
- discuss ideas and strategies for embedding thinking skills into pupils' learning
- provide techniques for maintaining the motivation and progress of the most able.
