- To increase skills and understanding behaviour assessments and positive treatment programmes
- To access a variety of resources in relation to self harm
- To explore the various management options and support strategies young people who self harm
- For participants cascade their knowledge gained to other staff in their organisations

Outcomes

By the end of the course each delegate should be able to:

- Understand what self-harm is
- Recognise signs and symptoms of self-harm in the context of child development
- Develop practical skills, effective interventions and use tools with which to support children and young people
- Describe effective interventions at different ages and stages
- Become familiar with evidence based practice (inc. NICE guidelines)
- Increase understanding of the theoretical base which underpins self-harm and how this can inform practice
- Develop awareness of relevant cultural issues
- Know when, where and how to refer to targeted and / or specialist services

Target group

Staff working in Universal (non-specialist mental health settings) who have some understanding of, or responsibility to support children and young people with mental health issues. Ideally participants will have attended a previous foundation course, i.e. Emotional Health Awareness Foundation Training offered by CAMHS. This course is now available on line. For further information and to access this on line course via the Learning Hub please click here

Participants will be required to cascade knowledge gained with colleagues in their setting. A tool will be provided to help with this.

Training provider:

Associate Development Solutions Ltd is an organisation made up of people with extensive experience of the mental health of children and young people; working in child and adolescent mental health services, universal services and in training and education. Our aim is to support raising the profile of the mental health of children and young people and to provide a training experience that is informative and useful.

We want people to be as involved as possible. To facilitate this, we will include small group exercises using case studies, a game, and explore how we can share skills. The day will also include DVD clips, presentations on the theory and an exploration of the care pathways in Norfolk.

Course length: One day

Cost

The course will cost £40.00. Refreshments will be provided but no lunch is included.
