

RSPB Outreach Visits: Change of contact details

The RSPB, working in partnership with Aldi supermarket chain, is delighted to announce a new programme of free activities for schools in the Norwich and Broads catchment areas. All of our activities are high quality, fun and interactive. Our trained educators can deliver the following sessions. Choose a visit from:

Give Nature a Home – Find out all about the creatures that make a home in your school grounds, and discover new ways to support wildlife on your doorstep. Designed to help your pupils map and score your school grounds for its value for nature.

Bioblitz –What's living in your school grounds? We'll help your pupils hunt for plants and for minibeasts under every rock, bush and doormat. You may be surprised by what you find!

Big Schools' Birdwatch – Using ID guides and binoculars, your pupils will identify and record the birds we spot around the school. The Big Schools' Birdwatch is the school version of the Big Garden Birdwatch which takes place in January every year – the world's biggest garden wildlife survey aimed at families and individuals. PLEASE NOTE: this activity is only available during the first half-term after Christmas.

All of our visits have been carefully designed to meet learning outcomes from the National Curriculum for Science and can be geared towards KS1 or KS2. There are many follow up activities on our website to enable you to complete learning outcomes for other curriculum areas, for example in numeracy.

The visits support the emphasis on a broad curriculum, in the new Common Inspection Framework, helping your school towards delivering a varied and exciting curriculum for your pupils. Each visit lasts 90 minutes.

This offer is currently limited to primary schools in Norwich and the Broads area.

The visits can also be counted towards your Eco Schools Award.

For more details or to book, please visit <http://www.rspb.org.uk/schoolsoutreach> or contact our Schools Outreach Officer in Norwich, Clare Whitelegg on 01603 660066. Please note our email address has changed to: norwichschoolsoutreach@rspb.org.uk
