

Medieval Madness at Norwich Castle

Enjoyment and learning for the whole family this summer!
21 July - 3 September (excluding Sundays)

Meet our costumed characters and see if your manners are fit for a Queen at our Medieval Manners table!

Our knight and the mistress-of-arms will give amazing demonstrations of arms and armour where you can learn how we fought for our King and country. Challenge yourself on our Conquer the Castle quest, plus crown, shield and stained glass crafts to make and take, dressing up, and more.

Look out for our medieval fighting demonstrations with stage and screen fight choreographer Keith Wallis, actor Neil Paris who will be performing the bard on his Shakespearean Soapbox and a contemporary dance special with The Imagination Museum, too.

All activities are FREE with museum admission.
Tours of our Fighting gallery and Curator special talks on the castle are an additional cost.

Norwich Castle - It's the cool place to be this summer!
