

Educators Collaboration Evening

Food and Farming Education

by the Royal Norfolk Agricultural Association

We would like you to join us for an evening to discuss how food and farming can be brought into the classroom and how the classroom can be taken out into the field.

The evening will provide an opportunity for educators to meet and share ideas and experiences with others, focusing on the ability to improve educational attainment through food and farming.

The event will include a talk from Susie Emmett, Green Shoots Productions, and workshop style sessions hosted by local educational providers.

Date and time: Thursday 6th October 2016, arrival from 4pm with light refreshments for a 4:30pm start.

Locally produced samples will be available from 6:30pm and we expect the event to be finished around 7.15pm

Venue: St Walstan's Hall, Norfolk Showground, Dereham Road, Norwich, NR5 0TT

RSVP by Wednesday 28th September to Sam T: 01603 748931 E: samantha.joyce@rnaa.org.uk

The evening is free to attend but there are limited spaces available, so early booking is essential. Free parking on site.

If you would like further information before booking please contact Sam or Kate at the RNAA Office on the details above or visit our website www.rnaa.org.uk.
