

Archaeology for Primary Schools

Cambridge Archaeology Learning Foundation

A new programme offering hands-on teaching for KS2 pupils.

Sessions designed to introduce concepts of the past, encourage lateral thinking and use of multiple subject skills. Learning is supported by interactive activities using real artefacts.

Lessons within your classroom

- 2 hours sessions with a class
- Range of activities
- Covers stone age to the present and local history

Sessions can be tailored according to your needs and budget

Teaching Key Stage 2 History National Curriculum aims

- Methods of historical enquiry
- Historical concepts of continuity and change
- How evidence is used to make historical claims
- Historical perspective

UNIVERSITY OF
CAMBRIDGE

Access
Cambridge
Archaeology

Contact

Email: access@arch.cam.ac.uk

Phone: 01223 761519

www.access.arch.cam.ac.uk/schools/CALF

"Approachable, relaxed teaching style that the children related to well." Foxton Primary

"A good mix of both hands on and thinking. Great range of artefacts."
Foxton Primary

