

SHERINGHAM PRIMARY NATIONAL TEACHING SCHOOL

Developing School & Parent Partnerships to Raise Achievement

For members of senior leadership teams.

School improvement and school effectiveness research consistently show that parental engagement is one of the key factors in securing higher pupil achievement. Schools that engage the community and build strong links with parents, improve and sustain improvement. This day course explores how to develop partnership through support for parenting and learning at home, communication, volunteering, decision making and collaborating with the community

The course explores strategies to ;

- Create a shared ethos of high aspirations and expectations
- Communicate effectively with parents, including through use of electronic media
- Develop positive staff- parent interactions
- Overcome the barriers to parental engagement, especially for the parents who find it hardest to reach schools
- Help parents understand the curriculum, how well their child is doing and how they can support them at home
- Use the parental voice to further improve the school's effectiveness
- Make best use of community assets to enhance pupils' education

Delegates will be provided with

1. A tool to evaluate the school, family and community partnership and plan next steps
2. Examples of best practice in engaging families
3. Points for inclusion in a Parent Partnership policy

Previous participants say:

'A valuable session with lots of fantastic ideas to help our school further engage our families'.

'A good use of a coaching approach to share practice in schools and unpick how we can develop parent partnership further'.

'Some really useful ideas to engage parents. I like the thought of considering whether we as the school are the barrier and how we can change that'.
