

'beLong' at Houghton Hall, is a Heritage Lottery funded learning programme designed to support children and young people in Norfolk to engage and participate in EARTHSKY the world class land art exhibition of Richard Long in the beautiful grounds of historic Houghton Hall.

EARTHSKY is a landmark exhibition at Houghton Hall which will feature new works by Turner Prize-winning artist Richard Long, using locally-sourced materials; it will be his largest UK exhibition since 2009.

The BeLong heritage learning programme offers

- FREE access to the Richard Long exhibition EARTHSKY
- Kevin Crossley Holland led writing workshop
- Artist led practical workshop
- Online and interactive educational resources
- Curriculum linked sculpture trail
- Free transport
- Access to grounds of Houghton Hall
- An outstanding learning outside the classroom opportunity

If you would like your group to take part in this exciting education programme, register your interest and receive more information by visiting: www.belongathoughton.com