

Spring Bulletin

This month our website underwent a dramatic rebrand, and with the fresh new look and streamlined services comes a helpful Resources for Schools section. There's guidance on how to use images, information about access to NLA's free newspaper archive, as well as activities for your students to get them thinking about copyright. There's never been a better time to visit the site and see what tips you can pick up to enhance your teaching with copyright compliant resources.
