

Schools Art Competition

2017

Royal Norfolk Agricultural Association

FINAL CALL for the 2017 Schools Art Competition

Thank you to all those who have already entered the 2017 Schools Art Competition. The Norfolk Arts Hub and The Royal Norfolk Show are pleased to encourage further entries to this competition. The entry date has now been extended to 5 May.

Students are invited to produce a piece of art on any aspect of British food, farming and the countryside or an open category. They may submit their entries in any medium, however due to display space we ask that entries are no larger than A3 where possible.

Key Stage	Submissions guidance
KS1, KS2, KS3 and KS4	Please submit your best students' work using the form online
KS5	See flyer and email norfolkks5artcomp@gmail.com for separate entry procedure

Both entry procedures allow a maximum of 5 entries.

Apart from the prestige of entering what is now a regional, all-age competition, there are cash prizes and a chance to have your work exhibited at the Royal Norfolk Show. For post-16 students, there will be residencies, workshops and possible other opportunities.

For all, this is a golden opportunity to encourage your young artists, and to help develop and publicise the first-class creative education they receive from your school, academy or college.

Submit your entries ASAP
