

ANTI-BULLYING WEEK UPDATE

SEPTEMBER 2017

Part of the National
Children's Bureau family

The Anti-Bullying Alliance coordinates Anti-Bullying Week each year across England. This year we heard from over 600 children and young people to help us develop our theme for Anti-Bullying Week 2017 (13-17 November 2017): All Different, All Equal.

Free Anti-Bullying Week resources for schools now available

This year we have created some [free] innovative resources: lesson plans, assembly plans, cross curricular activities and many other ideas for Anti-Bullying Week activity for both primary and secondary schools. We have also created a poster you can display. Keep checking the link as the weeks go by as we will create even more for you to use.

Official Merchandise

You can now purchase official Anti-Bullying Week 2017 merchandise to use with children including wristbands and stickers. Order by 3rd November to ensure delivery in time for Anti-Bullying Week.

We have also released two short films with Unique Voice. Please do access them and continue to share with us all your activity in the lead up to Anti-Bullying Week.

Pupils can nominate their Power for Good teacher

Please also remember that this year we are continuing the Power for Good award for teachers and school staff. Children & young people can nominate teachers & school staff in England that go above and beyond the call of duty to provide pastoral care to students for issues such as bullying, relationships, family life, mental health and wellbeing.
