

Heading Up Success: Leading and Delivering Effective Behaviour CPD in your Department

Training to build capacity within departments to deliver high quality CPD around behaviour.

Course Outline

Are you a busy Head of Department?

Leading CPD is a key skill of an effective HOD.

How to demonstrate effective leadership around positive behaviour strategies for your team is the focus of this training.

The essential components necessary for students to 'behave as learners' will be unpicked and how this can be reassembled into departmental training will be examined.

You will remind of what makes for effective CPD and the potential barriers to this.

You will leave this training with your next steps outlined ready for development into CPD back in school.

By the end of the course participants will:-

- be able to devise and structure, both strategically and operationally, behaviour CPD to deliver to their department
- understand what practices are necessary to best promote students' learning behaviours in the classroom
- understand important features of effective CPD, recognise potential barriers to this and will consider how these can be overcome
