

INVITATION FROM UEA: CHARTERED COLLEGE OF TEACHING EVENT

Dear Headteacher

We are delighted that Professor Dame Alison Peacock, Chief Executive of the Chartered College of Teaching is coming to UEA on Wednesday 19th September to talk about 'Learning without Limits', an inclusive approach to teaching that seeks to find a way through for every child. Alison will discuss ways that we can raise the status of teaching through an evidence-informed approach that restores trust and agency. Please find a flyer advertising this attached.

We would like to offer you places at this event for both NQTs and experienced teachers.

PLACES FOR NQTs

All newly qualified teachers are offered places, either in the first lecture from 3-4pm or in the later, repeat lecture, from 5-6pm. Both events take place in the Thomas Paine Study Centre Lecture Theatre. We anticipate this will be a valuable and inspirational CPD opportunity for them at the start of their NQT year and hope you will enable them to attend. Places for NQTs can be booked by emailing edu.support@uea.ac.uk stating that the place(s) are for NQTs.

PLACES FOR EXPERIENCED TEACHERS

As a UEA Partnership event, we would also like to offer you places for other teachers in your school in the repeat lecture from 5-6pm in the Thomas Paine Study Centre Lecture Theatre. Places for experienced teachers can be booked by emailing edu.support@uea.ac.uk

We hope you will welcome this opportunity for your teaching staff to attend this non-chargeable CPD event, as we believe this will be an inspirational start to the new academic year for us all.

Kind regards

Deirdre Medler
Director of Initial Teacher Education
