

QUALIFICATIONS IN OUTDOOR EXPEDITION

Lowland Expedition Leaders Award

17 years+

The Level 3 Certificate Lowland Expedition Leaders Award (LEL) is a nationally recognised qualification and is the minimum qualification recommended by Norfolk County Council and the Duke of Edinburgh's Award for those wanting to train and lead expedition groups.

Description

The qualification could also count towards the volunteering or skill section of The Duke of Edinburgh's Award. This qualification is also suitable for any leaders on geography field trips.

The sessions include evenings in Norwich (venue to be confirmed) from 18:30 to 21:30 and weekends at various venues in Norfolk. Friday (18:00) to Sunday (16:00). Attendance is required at all sessions.

Outcomes

- The qualifications prepare delegates to assist and lead in lowland walks and overnight expeditions whilst helping to raise awareness of our environment and promoting physical health & well-being
- Schools can upskill students to support delivery of the Bronze/Silver Duke of Edinburgh Awards
- Colleges can supplement the learning of students studying Public Services and other outdoor qualifications
- Expedition Leadership qualifications give delegates the chance to develop vital leadership skills they can use in the great outdoors and transfer into other areas of their lives

Audience

For those wanting to lead or assist expedition groups and train participants to undertake their own self-sufficient expeditions.
