Raising Standards Through Effective Leadership in Design and Technology

This course will:

- provide clear guidance on developing the role of the subject leader in design and technology throughout the primary phase
- provide opportunities for teachers to develop their own knowledge and understanding so that they can confidently lead the improvement in teaching and learning in their school
- consider the strategies that are needed to ensure that subject leaders do have a positive impact upon raising the standards achieved by children in their school.

Refreshments will be provided.

Course Leader: Jane Wheeldon

Cost: £115.00
