Developing Children's Creativity Through Design and Technology

This course will:

- provide practical guidance on developing children's creativity through teaching and learning in design and technology from Y1 to Y7,
- give opportunities for delegates to make models and examples to take back to their school to support teaching and learning both in their class and throughout the school,
- provide opportunities for teachers to develop their own creativity, capabilities and confidence to teach design and technology creatively and very well.

Refreshments and lunch will be provided.

Your Course Leader is Jane Wheeldon.

Cost: £115.00
