Leading and Developing the Recorder Group

The recorder is a versatile musical instrument. Joining the school recorder group is, for many youngsters, the first step to their life-time of musical enjoyment. This course will explore ways of working with the recorder group, both in school time and as a lunch time club. We will explore resources and musical arrangements, types of instruments and their care, ways of addressing the wide range of abilities and making the sessions fun. Reading music is an advantage but not a necessity.

Course objectives are to expand your repertoire of ideas for leading and developing a recorder group.

Bring along a recorder to play
Refreshments will be available.
Course Leader: Maureen Hanke
