

GRASSROOTS

Zimbabwean Theatre Group

We are taking bookings for Grassroots, a Zimbabwean Theatre Group, who are due to make their third tour of the region in the autumn term coinciding with the Year of Cultural Diversity. As in previous years, this is organised by the Norwich Cathedral Grassroots Committee with support from the Norfolk Education Advisory Service.

Grassroots offer performances and workshops using dance, drama and music to entertain and educate.

The dynamic style and personalities of the group guarantees that audiences are not only entertained by the sound and spectacle of African music and dance, but are also informed and challenged on issues of citizenship, and cultural awareness through drama introducing issues such as conservation, gender and domestic violence, racism, human rights and third world debt.

There will also be an opportunity for pupils to participate in workshops with Grassroots at the UEA with students from the MA in Theatre and Development.

Sessions can be tailored to suit all age groups.

Grassroots cost £300 per day inclusive.

For further details and bookings, please contact:

Anna McCarthy

Arts in Education Partnership Co-ordinator

01603 433276

anna.mccarthy.edu@norfolk.gov.uk

Photography by Alan Howard