"There is a growing body of evidence to indicate that the work of artists in schools, enhances the quality of teaching and learning and makes a significant contribution to the quality of school life." (Artists in Schools - Ofsted review, 1998)

This course is intended to:

- provide guidance on how to initiate and manage high quality artists in residency
- give teachers the opportunity to work creatively alongside a professional artist to gain skills that can be transferred to the classroom
- raise awareness of available services, local providers and possible grant funding streams
- provide existing models of good practice.

Course Leaders:

- Anna McCarthy, Arts in Education Project Development Officer

- Patrice Baldwin, Adviser for the Promotion of the Arts in Schools

- Karl Foster, Artist
