

SEND Shared Support autumn 2023

Outline

SEND shared support sessions aim to provide an opportunity for SENDCos and other professionals working with children and young people with SEND to:

- Meet with Learning and SEND advisers
- Network and build relationships with colleagues in SEND from across Norfolk
- Learn from one another, sharing knowledge and resources
- Share challenges and solutions
- Discuss best practice
- Reflect and share experiences in a safe and supportive environment

Description

- Each shared support session will have an identified key theme for discussion
- Breakout room discussion in small groups will provide an opportunity to network and share learning with colleagues
- Delegates will be asked to suggest ideas/themes for the spring/summer sessions

The autumn 2023 session will continue the focus on developing robust SEND Support Plans. It will provide an opportunity to look at the new NCC guidance and resources for primary and secondary settings and to identify next steps.

Outcomes

Following the session, delegates will receive:

- A summary of feedback and themes from group discussions
- A list of resources and links shared during the session
