

We warmly invite you to join us at our free upcoming Early Years Literacies launch event. This new 'Forum' is running until July 2025 and is aimed at making connections between all those with an interest in the Early Years field.

We would very much like to talk with you and hear your ideas for how we might develop and/or support EYFS networks, with professional development and collaborative projects funded through the Joyce Morris Early Years Literacies Forum.

Do feel able to share this event invite with other interested colleagues.
Please RSVP through our online booking form.

Book your place online

Joining instructions/directions will be sent out in the week before the event.

Joyce Morris Early Years Literacies Forum

The School of Education invites you to a launch event

Wednesday 6th
December 2023

In person at UEA or online
6-8p.m

Join us to hear out about three new research projects exploring digital literacies, early literacy links with mindfulness and the literacy practices of Gypsy, Roma and Traveller people. Meet other EYFS professionals and find out about free upcoming early years public events and networking opportunities. Share your perspectives through the Q&A.

Come, be part of this community.

Book your place online