Dear Colleague

SACRE's annual workshop has a rather different feel this year.....

The new Agreed Syllabus for RE for Norfolk teachers is ready for use. What's more, we believe that Norfolk's SACRE is among the first in the country to produce a syllabus in the light of the 2004 National Framework for RE.

So, please find attached a warm invitation to an afternoon of celebration in which our new syllabus will officially be launched. We are very fortunate that Graham Langtree, QCA's Adviser for RE, has agreed to give our keynote speech, and the afternoon will also offer a chance to look at the syllabus itself through presentations from those involved in its production, through displays of pupil's work across all phases, and through exhibitions mounted by local faith communities. Your school's copy of the syllabus will be available for collection.

We hope everything about the afternoon will convey an air of celebration. This new syllabus has the potential to make a significant contribution to the delivery of quality RE in Norfolk and is something of which we can be really proud. It deserves to be launched in style!

I do hope you or your representative will be able to play a part in this important occasion and look forward to seeing you on 27 September 2005. Please reply to my Secretary Caroline Ross before 16 September by email, phone or post using the contact details or reply slip at the bottom of your accompanying invitation. Thank you.

With all good wishes

Yours sincerely

Fred Corbett (Assistant Director – Children's Services)
Clerk to Norfolk's SACRE (Standing Advisory Council for Religious Education)
