REMINDER OF THE AUTUMN TERM CONFERENCE

BUILDING LEARNING POWER

6th October 2003, 9.30 to 3.30, Barnham Broom Hotel and Country Club.

'Building Learning Power' will be led by Professor Guy Claxton and Dr Bill Lucas.

Guy Claxton is the author of many influential books including 'Hare Brain, Tortoise Mind' and 'Wise Up: The Challenge of Lifelong Learning'. His latest book, 'Building Learning Power', explores ideas about what it means to be good at learning and how teachers can cultivate good learning in their pupils. Bill Lucas was the founding chief executive of the Campaign for Learning. His many publications include 'How to Help Your Child', a widely acclaimed book for parents and 'Power Up Your Mind'.

The key principles of Building Learning Power (BLP) are drawn from research into how the mind works. BLP applies this research directly to learning and teaching in the classroom. It focuses on the skills and understanding teachers need to help children become better, lifelong learners.

The conference will include:

- A keynote speech from Guy Claxton
- A question and answer session giving opportunities to explore what Building Learning Power could mean for our schools
- A choice of seminars focusing on current good practice
- A closing speech by Bill Lucas

COST: £115 per delegate
