Computing Conference Invitation

"The ICT for Education conferences are a fantastic opportunity for new ideas, teaching strategies and IT concepts to be presented, discussed and shared. In short, they are a fabulous opportunity for networking and the sharing of tools that can enhance and compliment teaching across a wide range of subjects. Thank you!" Russell Gaines, Director of Vocational Studies, James Calvert Spence College

"I found the conference exceedingly beneficial and interesting. Tig's talk, in particular, has been a great catalyst for broaching the subject of AI at my own school." Nicholas Morrell, Deputy Head (Academic), Westminster Cathedral Choir School

ICT for Education is returning to Carrow Road, Norwich on Friday 10 May 2024. We are very pleased to invite you and any interested colleagues to this event. There is no charge to attend. Delegate places are available on a first-come-first-served basis, so please register above or below to secure your place(s).

Aimed at those tasked with delivering the Computing curriculum in the classroom and those responsible for ensuring an effective technology framework, ICT for Education events are designed to inform and inspire the teaching of Computing and to encourage best practice in schools' use of ICT across the curriculum and throughout the school.

Confirmed speakers include Miles Berry, Professor of Computing Education at the University of Roehampton; Adam Gibson, Hub lead for NCCE Norfolk Computing Hub; Jordan Smithson, IT Services Manager for Peterborough Keys Academies Trust; Tig Williams, CAS Master Teacher, teacher trainer and IT professional.

Hear what AI can do for you as a teacher, saving time and making lesson planning easier. Increase your confidence in your ability to deliver innovative, compelling and relevant subject content. Hear sessions on strategies to engage all students and make Computer Science accessible to all; embedding a 1:1 learning platform; practical tools and free resources available to teachers to inspire and motivate students.

Soak up a wealth of new information to take back to school to use straightaway in your teaching. Meet and spend quality time with other teachers to learn and share ideas. Leave refreshed and confident with renewed teaching energy!

Meet leading school-technology suppliers and see their products put to the test.
