

Western locality group
In association with the LSCB Quality Assurance Group Presents

Chapter 8 Reports: Their recommendations and their Implementation

Recommendations from Part 8 Overview Reports	ACPC Expectations (SMART objectives)	Actions taken to date	Further actions planned
1 Professionals need to maintain an open mind and avoid making assumptions with regards to apportioning blame, especially before it has been proven or an assessment indicating further risk has been completed	All professionals engaged within the child protection process will be encouraged to actively seek to identify explanations for injuries and challenge assumptions made All training (ACPC and single agency) will address issues of causation with active use of research		This issue to be discussed with the ACPC training team and referred to agency representatives for discussion within their single agency training teams
2 Initial and core assessments should become interagency at the earliest opportunity. The newly adopted Minimum Standards for Assessment Framework, Norfolk ACPC, should be adopted in each agency	Agencies must work to the Minimum Standards for Assessment Framework, Norfolk ACPC	There are a range of different audits that will cover many of these issues A meta-analysis of these audits to be undertaken by the ACPC QA Group	Results to be disseminated across all agencies

Important lessons in Child Protection

Their implications for you and your practice

This short presentation will look at the learning from several recent Chapter 8 Reports and the amendments to inter-agency practice, procedures and protocols that have resulted from them. It is aimed at a wide inter-agency audience and will be of use to managers as well as practitioners

RECOMMENDED ROUTES: If you are not familiar with the town centre routes and approach King's Lynn via the A17, A47, A10 or B1145, it is recommended that you follow the bypass signs to the roundabout at Knight's Hill Hotel, turn left and approach the centre from the Edward Benefer Way. Visitors approaching via the A148 and A149 will find this is their obvious route.

Please note: After turning into Kilham's Way, entrance is approx 200yds on left, the very first entrance. Car park is at rear of building. Please take extra care as children use the pathway leading to the car park.
