

Introduction to the Early Support Programme

The Early Support Programme aims to deliver better co-ordinated services for parents of disabled children under five, as soon as a child is identified as needing help. This programme has produced a range of popular materials for families and professionals, which will support more sensitive and effective early help for families.

Introduction to the Early Support Programme

This introductory workshop aims to:

- Introduce the Early Support Programme and model of support
- Give participants the opportunity to explore the Early Support information for families and the Family Pack
- Explore the impact of the identification of a child's disability on the family and consider how they can be supported by early years settings
- Consider how the Early Support materials can be used in a range of early years settings
- Discuss how early years settings can contribute to better co-ordinated working with other professionals and agencies involved with the children with special needs and their parents

Target Group: Essential for Setting SENCOs but also of interest for all early years staff in a range of settings working with children up to the age of 5.

Additional Information: To find out more about the programme and to order free materials, have a look at the website www.earlysupport.org.uk
