

'effectiveness & quality
in the early years'
the findings you've been waiting for...

a norfolk early years conference

the john innes centre, norwich

monday 24 february 2003, 9.30am-3.30pm

As a Foundation Stage practitioner, you will no doubt have heard or been involved in both the EPPE project (Effective Provision of Pre-school Education) and the EEL project (Effective Early Learning).

These detailed national studies are now nearing completion and will be presented at the EYDCP 'Effectiveness & Quality in the Early Years' conference.

Listen as the experts reveal their findings and the positive implications for Foundation Stage practitioners all over the country.

Kathy Sylva will unveil the EPPE study and discuss influences on children's cognitive development, while Iram Siraj-Blatchford will look at the characteristics of effective Pedagogy in the Foundation Stage. Christine Pascal will talk about 'Quality in the Early Years' with reference to the EEL project.

This conference is for the benefit of Foundation Stage practitioners in the maintained and non-maintained sectors.

guest speakers

Professor Kathy Sylva Department of Educational Studies,
University of Oxford

Professor Iram Siraj-Blatchford
Institute of Education, University of London

Professor Christine Pascal
Centre for Research
in Early Childhood, University College Worcester

to book your place
please complete the enclosed booking form

Available in large print, braille and alternative
languages

GL 009 · 12/02

