

Free Resource!

Implementing the Disability Discrimination Act in Schools and Early Years Settings

A new resource is available free to all schools, which aims to guide and support your efforts to improve access for disabled pupils.

The materials include guidance on the legal responsibilities and examples of how schools have successfully included disabled pupils. There are practical ideas and training activities that will help you make reasonable adjustments to prevent discrimination and improve the quality of your access plans. The resource includes a CD of training resources and Powerpoint presentations, and three DVDs showing practical examples of inclusion in action.

A further section will be added shortly to include guidance on the 2005 duties which require schools to produce a Disability Equality Scheme.

Norfolk was a partner authority in producing this material and we are keen that all schools benefit from the work we have done.

The guidance is only available on request.
