

ARTS IN EDUCATION

From Zimbabwe!

Grassroots and the Global Dimension

Autumn Tour 2006

Grassroots Theatre for Development Company bring their wonderful performances and workshops to Norfolk Schools focussing on the global dimension in education including cultural diversity, racism, sustainability, with a particular emphasis on Africa and Zimbabwe explored through music, drama, dance and song.

Due to exceptional demand for this group, expressions of interest will need to be submitted on behalf of your school. Please do this by emailing

Sevil Kanal or Lisa Battle in the Arts in Education Team at:

sevil.kanal@norfolk.gov.uk or lisa.battle@norfolk.gov.uk

Expressions of interest will open on Tuesday 2nd May 2006.

We recommend early booking to avoid disappointment.

Whole day bookings will cost a total of £425.

You will subsequently be contacted to confirm your allocated day. This decision will be based on the focus of work along with the geographic element within Norfolk to ensure the best use of time.
